Opinions vary over Dombind

by Ariel White

The debate over Dombind continued in Haliburton County as one of a series of public information sessions, sponsored by the Trenton firm Norampac was held Saturday in Minden. Over the course of two sessions in Minden, residents have had mixed reviews about the dust suppressant.

The product, which is given to municipalities at no charge for dust control on gravel roads, is produced by Norampac (formerly known as Domtar Packaging). It is a sticky dark brown substance which is a by-product of the wood pulping process. Chips of wood and cardboard are heated to a high temperature. A glue like substance, called lignin is then separated from the pulp and the product is then concentrated in an evaporator to produce Dombind.

Dombind is used as a dust suppressant by 70 municipalities in Ontario. The dark brown substance has been sprayed on gravel roads in some areas for over 40 years.

Norampac has held several public information sessions across southern Ontario in order to answer questions from residents of municipalities where Dombind is used. Norampac has also created a website and a public advisory committee to compile information as part of a report that will be given to the Ministry of the Environment at the end of June. The licensing agreement with Norampac and the Ministry expires at the end of this year and the Ministry must determine if the product is safe for use on Ontario roads.

Although some of the twelve hour sessions were sparsely attended, the two meetings in Minden were busy. The two sessions were quite different in their make up and response to the product. The 26 people who attended the first session and were vocal about their concerns.

Regards from Broadway

The Haliburton Messiah Choir brought Broadway to Main Street Saturday. Members of the choir marched through a variety of Highlands communities promoting their upcoming concert. They marched up Minden's Main Street to the stirring sounds of 76 Trombones from the musical The Music Man. Under the direction of Melissa Stephens, the 70 voice choir will be performing three concerts featuring the music of Broadway. Concert dates are: May 29 at Archie Stouffer Elementary School in Minden; May 31 at the Haliburton Legion and June 2 at the Lloyd Watson Community Centre in Wilberforce. Reserved seats, available in advance are $10, admission at the door is $12. They are available at Nancy's Flowers in Haliburton, the Minden I.D.A. Drug Store, Four Seasons in Camarvon, Eagle Lake Food Town and Agnew's in Wilberforce.

Sneaker shod citizens step out for health

by Ariel White

Minden Sneaker Day officials organized quite a feat on Friday as over 60 residents and local politicians gathered to celebrate healthy living.

Morris Duff, of the Sneaker Day Committee, thanked everyone for attending the event, which was similar to others being held across Canada to promote active living. "You will be walking with other Canadians from Bona Vista to Vancouver Island," said Duff. "We will walk to our good health and to promote good health." Duff extolled the virtues of walking as part of a regular routine of exercise. "As long we have streets and roadways and shoes we can walk," he said.

Several local politicians were on hand to walk, including Victoria-Haliburton MP John O'Reilly, Lutterworth Reeve Jim McMahon, Anson Hindon and Minden Reeve Jean Anthon, Deputy Reeve Jerry Rome and Councillor

Grant Plooard. Due to prior commitments, John O'Reilly was not able to complete the walk, however he mentioned that out of 42 municipalities that had invited him to the various festivities, he had chosen the Minden Sneaker Day, as the Minden committee had been very persistent in their request. "It's great to be in Minden," said O'Reilly. I want to thank the Minden Sneaker Day committee for the invitation."

Sneaker Day was also the official kick off for the Haliburton County Heart Health program. The Heart Health initiative is a project of the Haliburton, Kawartha Pine Ridge District Health Unit which focuses on a three pronged approach to a healthy heart - active living, healthy eating and a tobacco-free environment.

Marg Graham, a public health nurse with the HKPR Health Unit said, "The province has given some money to the health unit to allow us to work with the community to promote healthy living. We are promoting healthy eating, healthy living and tobacco abstinence," said Graham. The program is part of a five year initiative to educate the community on heart risks and cardiovascular disease and general unhealthy lifestyles. The health unit will be working in conjunction with The Heart and Stroke Foundation as well as The Lung Association.

The route took the sneaker-clad walkers from the gazebo on Main Street north to the Agnes Jamieson Gallery; onto the hiking trails which took the group to behind the Minden arena and down to Beaver Creek. The route then circled around behind the baseball diamond and returned to the Library/Cultural Centre where refreshments were available. Then it was back down Bobcaygeon road to the gazebo, where orange slices and trail mix awaited the enthusiastic and successful participants in Minden's Sneaker Day '98.

Computers, modems TVs wiped out by storm

Electronic appliances in homes and businesses throughout the Minden area were affected by a lightning storm which thundered through the area Saturday afternoon (May 16).

The storm brought briefly heavy showers and high winds to isolated areas of the county, but it was the lightning strikes which left a legacy of problems in its wake. Many individuals in the Minden area reported televisions were ruined when a lightning discharge travelled through the cable system and "fried" the electronic workings. In some areas of the community cable TV service was also knocked out for several days.

Other area residents lost electronic phone systems, security systems and computer modems when the power surge moved through the system.

Businesses in the downtown area of Minden seemed hardest hit, with computers, scanning equipment and modems taking the hardest hit. At the Minden IDA Drug Store, Pharmacist Paul Heffer said he couldn't believe the amount of damage that was caused by the lightning. "We lost our point of sale system, the debit and credit link and the security system." He said the air conditioning unit on the roof was affected and obviously sustained a serious hit because the access door was welded shut by the electrical discharge. Electronic equipment on the second floor of the drug store building was also put out of commission as was the control for the electric garage door openers to the ambulance bay at the rear of the structure.

Interestingly, the lightning hit resulted in the discolouration of the water in the building. Heffer said that for several days after the storm the water coming out of the taps in the building had a brownish colour to it. Since it is a new building, he speculated that the lightning discharge was dissipated through the water pipes, knocking residue off the older municipal pipes in the area.

Other businesses in the downtown area were also badly affected by the brief storm. Computer equipment, electronic cash registers and air conditioners at Floyd Hall Insurance, Stedman's and other downtown businesses all suffered as a result of the lightning.

There is no way of determining the financial impact of the lightning discharge that hit the area. But considering the technical nature of the equipment that was affected, there is no doubt it will run into the thousands of dollars.

Despite the fact that most of the computers at The Times office were operating throughout the storm, none sustained any damage. In this office at least, the storm caused nothing more than a brief power outage which temporarily halted production.

HC renovation tenders opened

Tenders for renovations at Hyland Crest were opened Thursday afternoon at the Capital Planning Committee meeting of the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Board.

The first bid opened was from R and G Construction of Huntsville. The tender was $152,647 plus GST.

The bid of G. Smith and Sons of Minden was the second of three opened. The bid amount was $182,333 plus GST.

W.S. Morgan Construction of Parry Sound was the third bid opened, with the amount stated at $176,900 plus GST.

The architect will examine the bids to make sure that they meet the criteria and report back to the HHHS this week, in time for the Board to make a decision at its meeting Thursday, May 28.

The renovations will provide accommodations for 12 Hyland Crest residents who will have to move from their current rooms while the addition, which will house the Minden Hospital, is built.

High school musicians provide entertaining evening

Student musicians from all grades combined their talents Tuesday evening to present the HHSS Spring Concert. The evening was a musical delight with the students demonstrating a variety of technical and interpretive skills. The ensembles, all under the direction of music teacher Tom Regina, included the Grade Nine Band, Grade Eleven Music Class, the Flute Choir and the Festival Concert Band.

Members of the Grade 11 band perform Tuesday evening.

Most attending open house were 'just curious'

Lynda Weir does not like Dombind. "I can't stand the smell," said Weir. "I would rather pay more in taxes and have better roads." Weir also stated that she found little value in the public information sessions. "It hasn't changed my attitude. It's a public relations campaign to try and diffuse the situation," she said.

Some residents such as Weir, feel that Dombind is an unhealthy substance that may contaminate water systems and wildlife along Haliburton County roadways. According to the Dombind users' guide, the product is not to be sprayed within 50 metres of a waterway or marsh area. It also may not be used during a rainfall as the run-off may result in a negative impact on the environment.

Stephen Skidd, a consultant representing Norampac disagrees with the belief that Dombind is toxic. "Dombind has less dioxins and furans in it than the naturally occurring soil in Ontario," said Skidd. "People here have talked to us about how it is applied."

The second meeting in Minden was also well attended. Many residents were simply looking for information on the product. Allan and Doris Thompson of Minden were curious about Dombind and felt it was important to attend. "I was concerned about the birds and animals and human consumption, especially people with asthma," said Doris Thompson. "We really don't know anything about it, but it is our duty to find out about it."

Former Road Superintendent of Murray Township, Brian Moran, does not have a problem with Dombind. Moran now works for Norampac and admits that the product does tend to stick to vehicles after application, but feels that Dombind does not adversely affect the environment. He went as far as to taste a sample of Dombind at the first Minden meeting to prove its ineffectual nature.

After discussing Dombind with the Norampac representatives, Allan Thompson felt more confident about the product's use. "We just came out because last year there was a lot of controversy over spraying. I just wanted to take a few minutes to find out about the base of the product which just seems to be wood," said Thompson.

Also in attendance at the public information session was Bruce Hancock, district supervisor for the eastern region of the Ministry of the Environment. The ministry wants to ensure that the information it receives in the Norampac report is accurate. Hancock was satisfied with the public consultation process. "People can come in and put forth their concerns. They (Norampac) have tried to answer all of the sensible questions. It's been a good mix of people."

Norampac will make its report to the Ministry of the Environment at the end of June. The ministry will then make its determination on whether or not it feels the product is safe to continue to be used on Ontario roads.

A silver medal for the 'Green Team'

by Ariel White

A group of five HHSS students used their knowledge of the natural world around them to place second at the Provincial Envirothon at the Frost Centre. The students found the competition, which combines problem solving with the study of ecology, to be a challenging and exciting contest.

"It was hard," said team member Kristen Schakelaar. "We weren't sure what it would be like so we just applied all of the knowledge that we had." That knowledge was apparently accurate as the team received a silver medal for their efforts.

The Envirothon program is run through the Ontario Forestry Association. Grade nine through OAC students from 14 regions across the province participate in the program which incorporates the study of basic scientific concepts in forestry, wildlife, aquatic ecology and soil. Each five member team must work through various stations, trying to solve environmental issues with their knowledge of the land, air and soil.

GREEN TEAM: The HHSS Envirothon team received a silver medal at the provincial championships last week at the Frost Centre. Team members included, from the left, Rachel Levis, Kristen Schakelaar, Nick Fawcett, Matt Heffer and Sheamus Donnery. They worked through five stations where a problem had to be solved using knowledge of forestry, wildlife, aquatic ecology and soil.

Teacher and team leader Derek Little was very happy with the results. He said the students found the competition to be very challenging in comparison with previous years and he was enthusiastic about the team's effort. "The team did really well," said Little. "They actually received first place marks in the oral presentation."

HHSS sent three teams to the regional championship which was held in late April. The team that went on to the provincials placed second at the regional competition, but was eligible to move on the Ontario meet. It had competed in last year's provincials and placed third, and were hoping to beat that mark.

All of the students participated in the Envirothon program through classroom curriculum and noon hour practice sessions. In the future, Derek Little hopes to create a comprehensive outdoor education class at HHSS. "Our goal is, in the next two years, to have an integrated outdoor education program," said Little. The course would likely be at the grade 12 level.

The Haliburton Highlands Secondary School winning team consisted of OAC students Rachel Levis, Kristen Schakelaar, Nick Fawcett, Matt Heffer and Sheamus Donnery.

The wooden panels were set in place on the side of The Times building Friday afternoon for the first Minden mural. Local artist John Lennard will paint the scene. The 60 by 12 foot piece of public art will depict the logging heritage of the Highlands. The installation of the boards was done by B.K. Carpentry.

Victoria Road residents fight quarry proposal

by Ariel White

The Northern Victoria Ratepayers Association is leaving no stone unturned in its fight to keep a limestone quarry out of the Victoria Road area. The association intends to be fully prepared to fight the creation of the quarry, at the Ontario Municipal Board hearing scheduled for October.

Ratepayers President Tasso Komossa and Vice President Michael Poulton are very concerned about the 470 acres of land just south of hamlet of Victoria Road, that is scheduled to become a limestone quarry. They feel that the quarry will do more harm than good for the community, through increased noise and dust levels. The quarry is being created by Fenelon Falls Lawyer James Webster, who has owned the property in question since 1959.

"It's a community issue that has been a bane of our existence for some time," said Michael Poulton. "We have environmental concerns. It's a rich wildlife habitat. I saw two deer just yesterday. But we are also opposed to what we see as a change to the social environment."

The environmental impact on the area is also a concern of Michael Poulton's. He believes that a quarry would threaten the integrity of the Carden Plain, the flat and seemingly barren rocky area many considered an alvar, an ecological region which is home to several grasses, lichens and mosses.

Both Poulton and Komossa believe that the quarry will result in a huge increase in heavy truck traffic. They also feel that the addition of an unsightly quarry will actually harm economic development in the small but growing village of Victoria Road.

Michael Poulton has lived in Victoria Road for 26 years. He owns an art gallery in the village and thinks that the area has a great potential for economic and social expansion. "We are increasing in population and we would like to see it that way," said Poulton.

The Northern Victoria Ratepayers Association, in conjunction with the Victoria Road Community Association and the local business association has put forth an official challenge to the zoning changes proposed to accommodate the quarry. The OMB has already held a preliminary hearing and has scheduled two more prior to the October 26 official hearing at the Bexley Municipal office in Cobocok.

Although the ratepayers association found the OMB officials to be fair and professional, it is felt that the process of finding expert witnesses to testify is somewhat inequitable. In order to go through with the quarry process, James Webster had to conduct several studies on dust, noise and the archaeological and environmental significance of the area in order to comply with standards set by the Ministry of the Environment. To counter these studies, the citizens of Victoria Road and the surrounding area, must hire their own experts to look over the reports to ensure the proper protocol was used. "We've got to come up with money to hire the expert witnesses," said Tasso Komossa.

As for the experts, Dr. Diane Michelangeli is the senior scientist with Jacques Whitford Environment Limited. Michelangeli has been working since November on behalf of the Northern Victoria Ratepayers Association to review the quarry specifications and environmental impact. After studying the area and the previous reports, Michelangeli still has some questions about the project. "I do have concerns for both the dust and noise impacts," said Michelangeli. She believes that the reports were carried out properly and the correct protocol was followed, but she does not agree with the final interpretation of the information. Michelangeli will be submitting her report at the OMB hearing.

The one bright spot for Poulton and Komossa is the community spirit that has been driving the protest. Tasso Komossa feels that this has given him the opportunity to meet his neighbours. "I have met so many interesting people. It gave people a chance to talk about it and ask questions," said Komossa.

The next OMB preliminary hearings are scheduled for July 9 and August 10 if necessary.

Tasso Komossa left, and Michael Poulton are members of the Northern Victoria Ratepayers Association, a group attempting to block the construction of a quarry near Victoria Road. They have concerns about the noise, dust and other environmental impacts that may be caused by the limestone quarry.

Assessing the changes

Editorials

There are some major changes about to occur in the public school system in this province. Parents, grandparents and everyone interested in ensuring that the education system supported by public funds provides the best possible training for our youth should be paying close attention to the evolution occurring in the next four months.

The changes to the way public education is provided in Ontario, which were announced earlier by the provincial government, will start to take effect in that time period. Up to now, the management of the schools has been existing on a hybrid system, somewhere between the way it was prior to the massive changes and how it will be when all the changes are implemented. Shortly, the "old" system will be but a memory as the new regimen takes over and, while most would agree that systems must evolve to meet new challenges and realities, some may be surprised and even shocked at what lies ahead

There are already some indications of the impact the changes will have on the students and the schools in this area. While the final plans are still uncertain, there are indications that instructors in speciality areas at the elementary level, such as guidance, physical education, instrumental music and library may be eliminated or greatly reduced. Class sizes will likely be increasing.

The present provincial government promised an improved system of education and its assessment may be correct when measured by the yard stick it uses to determine what is "better". Certainly, listen to what is being promised, but don't just rely on one source for information. To get a complete picture on how the changes will affect your children or grandchildren, ask trustees, administrators or teachers. They can provide another assessment of how the changes introduced by the province will in fact be implemented at the local level, where the education actually takes place.

OPP moves into new offices

Editor:

Well, it has finally happened, we have moved into our new location, sharing the former MNR building with the MNR and Probation and Parole. We are quite happy with our new shared accommodations and look forward to many years at our permanent administrative site. For those of you who do not know the background, let me give you a brief history.

During the past few years the OPP has been doing some internal restructuring which includes reducing administration. Prior to that time both Coboconk and Minden had detachments comprised of approximately 23 constables, three sergeants, one staff sergeant and two secretaries. With reorganization, one staff sergeant (myself) administers both work locations with the help of three clerical support persons and four sergeants. This translated into a workplace saving of one staff sergeant, two sergeants and one clerical position.

The total target complement of 46 constables for both work locations remains unchanged. It continues to be a challenge to meet that target as some constables have been promoted, transferred or have elected to enjoy retirement. The transfers were all initiated by the officers, themselves, for a variety of reasons associated to job opportunities and career development. We have been fortunate in recruiting replacements who are energetic, committed, young people dedicated to this business of law enforcement.

Service delivery remains unchanged with the Coboconk officers working at the Coboconk work site out of the Coboconk detachment and the Minden officers working out of the new Minden office work site. The difference is that the work site's administration is now at Minden. Office hours for administration are 8:15 a.m. to 9:00 p.m., Monday to Friday. Call for service or calls of an emergency nature should be directed to our Communications Centre in Orillia at 1-888-310-1122. Officers spend very little of their time at the detachment office. If you need an officer, be sure to call the Communications Centre as they have direct radio contact with the officers and can address your concerns much quicker than we can at the administration centre.

On the morning of May 15, the new office was officially opened by our MPP, Chris Hodgson, and my boss Chief Superintendent Hutton, who arrived on his OPP motorcycle. Chief Superintendent Hutton is the highest ranking OPP officer to ride a police motorcycle. Following the brief ceremony, we visited with those attending, sharing coffee, muffins and the ever-present donuts.

May 15 also marked the beginning of our Aggressive Driving Campaign which runs until May 29. We will be targeting improper passing as well as being ever vigilant for those who have neglected to buckle up. I am writing this letter on Monday the 18th of May. It has been a busy weekend for us with the return of our tourists and the cottagers back at their second homes. Officers have been busy running from call to call. No serious injuries or fatal accidents have been reported, although we have had our first boating fatality of the season at Lake Dalrymple.

Finally remember to keep that seat belt on and ensure the same is done by all your passengers, especially the "little ones". Have a good week.

Students want Guidance retained

Editor:

We have just come to discover that Guidance will be cut severely from the Archie Stouffer curriculum.

We feel that the funding formula created by the Provincial Government was made without a students opinion.

Our Guidance councillor Mrs. Bennet is more than a Guidance teacher to some. She is like a big sister.

She is the one we go to in order to get help and advice on everything from friends to puberty. She has always been there for us.

We think the Conservative Government should rethink their formula which drastically cuts Guidance from the Archie Stouffer curriculum.

Now, look what we've done

Editor:

Well now you've done it!

This is not a zipper tree. It is in fact the site along county road 18 that has up until now been the local cottager's secret.

It is the locally known E.kal gomagiwa gashsak. Now the secret is out and this site will surely become as photographed and well known as the shoe trees of Irondale and Norland.

The shoe tree of Irondale made CBC history last year as it was a feature topic. This site is surely just another tourist event to be taken in, now that you have printed its photo. Ah, well, it couldn't be kept a secret much longer. It is getting quite big.

Thankfully there has been no damage to it during the winter ice storm

I guess it's true. I guess folks will buy just about anything, as long as some ad agency guy dreams up a way to convince them they need it.

Take cigars. Please.

There was a time, not so very long ago, when cigars were recognized for what they are: stinky cylinders of a foul herb that pollute the air, soil the drapes and burn holes in one's lungs and lapels with impartial abandon.

But cigars have had a Madison Avenue makeover. They've become chic, trendy, cool.

Visit a newsstand these days and you see the likes of Arnold Schwarzenegger, Sylvester Stallone, Peter Falk (not to mention Goldie Hawn, Demi Moore and Sharon Stone) — grimacing back at you, their capped teeth clenched around a stogie the size of a Rottweiler's hind leg.

Cigar Aficionado is the pretentious monicker of one of the rags. Another one bills itself as The Smoker. Perhaps the least pompous is one called simply Cigar.

The trouble is, these publications are devoted to one thing and one thing only: to the notion that sticking a large tube of weed in your mouth and sucking on one end while you ignite the other will make you a more attractive person.

And we're not talking El Cheapo cigars here. The readers who fall for the cigars-are-cool line will be paying big bucks for the privilege of courting lip cancer and smelling like a pool room.

Nowadays, Trendoids don't bat an eye at the prospect of paying twenty-five or thirty bucks for a 'pleasure' that will last approximately as long as it takes to drink a cup of coffee.

We seem to have collectively forgotten one of Sigmund Freud's most famous dictums: "Sometimes" Freud warned, "a cigar is just a cigar".

Benjamin Netanyahu, the Israeli Prime Minister, recently found himself in agua caliente as a result of his passion for Davidoff RRs.

Davidoff RRs sound like anti-ballistic missiles — and indeed, they're not too far off, size and shape wise. But actually, they are extremely rare and expensive hand-rolled cigars.

Davidoffs cost the equivalent of 43 dollars Canadian. Each.

Since he took office two years ago, Prime Minister Netanyahu has been handing out Davidoff RRs to visiting bigwigs like kiss candies at Hallowe'en. He's also managed to puff his way through an incredible $114,000 worth of the things.

The problem is, Netanyahu has been putting those cigars 'on his tab' as long as he's been in office. Israeli taxpayers have just learned that they've been paying the bills for Netanyahu's habit all along.

Benji's not the only one in the world with expensive tobacco tastes. At a Christie's auction held in Bern, Switzerland recently, an anonymous oil tycoon from Saudi Arabia eagerly shelled out the Canadian equivalent of $25,000 for 25 — that's twenty-five — cigars.

Now, it's true that these were creme de la creme cigars that are almost impossible to find these days — rare "Trinidad" cigars, hand-made in Cuba by master craftsmen. Still, anyway you slice it, that guy is laying out an incredible $1,000 for every after-dinner stogie he smokes.

Mind you, the Christies brochure points out that the prized products came "packed in their original cedar box."

Somewhat smaller, one assumes, than the wooden box the purchaser will be packed in if he continues to smoke cigars.

Businesses can influence provincial policy Ontario Chamber VP tells meeting

by Duff McCutcheon

The combined might of Ontario's various chambers of commerce has a profound influence on Provincial public policy declared Ian Cunningham, vice-president and director of policy of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce (OCC).

"When we speak with one voice, we make up the most powerful advocacy group in Ontario," Cunningham told the assembled members of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce during its spring Business to Business meeting last Wednesday.

With the inception of Vision 2000, the OCC has created a new mandate for itself to provide a voice for the 55,000 chamber of commerce members in the province. "We've come to the understanding that our business is to influence policy at Queen's Park."

Cunningham and the OCC seem pleased with the work of the Harris government, especially in regard to its ongoing reforms of worker's compensation, "and, most importantly, the electrical system...the most beneficial economic tool and job creator this government has obtained," he said. "The OCC has been a great proponent of opening up Ontario to electricity providers other than Ontario Hydro so we can have a competitive market. We should be able to have the option of buying hydro from Quebec or the Tennessee Valley because power really is a commodity."

"I mean, Ontario Hydro has served us well over the years but lower-priced power will generate more jobs in this province. We used to have some of the cheapest hydro rates in Canada but this is no longer the case."

Cunningham feels the Province needs to tinker with the education system, however, especially in regard to business studies in the curriculum.

"We've been meeting with people dealing with the curriculum and we've been driving home the point that our kids must have a better understanding of the basics of business and economics," he explained. "Currently these subjects are optional. They should be required so kids understand the risks you people take."

"Kids today are immersed in an environment with teachers who know little of the real world. The teachers went to school, went on to university and teachers' college and landed right back in school...it's pretty insular," he continued. "Don't get me wrong, teachers are great, but we think it is important that kids are exposed to real world business principles."

Seniors advance to Kawartha soccer finals

Wins over the Weldon Wildcats and Bethany Hills last Wednesday (May 20) advanced the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Senior Girls soccer team to the Kawartha Championships in Lindsay on May 25. It is the first time a Haliburton Senior girls soccer team has made it to the Kawartha finals.

The HHSS team finished the regular season with a record of six wins and two losses, good for second place overall in the Kawartha West division.

Haliburton opened Wednesday's doubleheader with a 3-0 win over the Wildcats.

Inga Haedicke scored twice and Amanda Duncombe added a single.

"Jessica Belcher had an outstanding game at midfield and goaltender Amber-Lee Culley played an excellent game," said coach Paul Klose.

Haliburton's second game of the day was against Bethany Hills. The HHSS girls coasted to a 6-1 victory in that game.

Jenn Turner, Ginger Sharp and Amber-Lee Culley scored two goals each for Haliburton.

Rachel Levis was on guard in the Haliburton goal, allowing Culley a chance to play out.

"It is quite an accomplishment," Klose said. "The girls clicked as a team, which is really important for us."

The HHSS team was scheduled to play its first game of the Kawartha championships at 11:30 today at

Realtors to help boost health fund

The Haliburton District Real Estate Board has announced a fund raising effort in support of the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Foundation.

"At our last general meeting, our members agreed that support of the Foundation was a top priority," said Derrell Stamp, current board president.

"We have taken a two-pronged approach. All board members are challenged to pledge an amount of money from each sale they make in 1998, or alternately, they can make a one time contribution. In addition, each member has been provided with pledge sheets to collect contributions from buyers and sellers who they work with," Stamp explained. Any contribution over $10 will receive a a receipt for tax purposes.

"We are very excited to be undertaking this initiative and are confident we can raise a considerable amount of money in support of the hospitals," said Stamp.

Bass season opens June 27!

Anglers take note! The headline on last week's story about the effects of catching bass before the season inadvertently left the impression that Bass season opens on June 2. In fact, the season doesn't open until the last Saturday in June, which is the 27th. Unfortunately the 7 somehow disappeared from the headline.

We understand the Ministry of Natural Resources office in Minden received several calls regarding this error. The Ministry was in no way responsible for this typo in the headline.

We apologize for the error.

The Minden and District Lions Club annual toll booth in Minden on May 16 raised almost $3,000. "It shows the trust people have in the Lions Club," said Past President Al Stott. "We thank everyone for their contributions and thinking of the Lions Club." Bob Harrington and Fred Cox are seen here at the voluntary toll booth on the bridge as a motorcyclist digs deep for the voluntary toll.

Quilters mark first year

by Marvella Smith

The Highlands Quilt Guild just celebrated its first anniversary at the Pritchard House in Minden.

The executive officers for the new year include: president Kim Bolender; vice president Esther Graham, secretary/treasurer Marg Higgins and past president Marvella Smith.

For those unfamiliar with the guild, we meet the third Wednesday of each month, from 1:00 to about 4:30 p.m. This is not just another meeting—it is a gathering of people sharing, helping and teaching. At every session, our members bring in their current project and work. Show-and-tell has become a favourite part of our get-together.

This year the guild will take part in the Minden Museum's Quilt, Rug and Fibre Arts Show, held at the Community Centre on July 25 and 26. Demonstrations, displays and a full size quilt in the frame will be just a part of the things to see.

One major project that the guild will complete this year is the making of our guild banner. Other proposals include taking part in a quilt block contest sponsored by the Minden Museum, the making of "cuddle blankets" for the OPP to use when assisting victims and a full size quilt to be sold at the third annual Quilt, Rug and Fibre Art Show in 1999.

We're a fun-loving group, dedicated to helping each other. For more information, call Kim at 457-3930, Esther at 447-2553, Marg at 489-2849 or Marvella at 489-2973. Please join us.

Planning process moves into second year

--submitted--

The Strategic Plan Process is heading into its second year and is still moving along well. Some of the orientation groups that had not been established are now up and running smoothly.

The newly formed County Marketing Group met for the first time recently with excellent representation. It is currently working on identifying trends in the County in order to set priorities for action plans.

The first meeting of the Environmental Advisory Group was held on the Easter weekend with over 20 people in attendance with broad representation from the various sectors, a good geographical mix as well as a strong interest from seasonal residents. A draft terms of reference has been developed and will be presented to the HUN Committee for approval. County Council will be appointing a representative to this committee.

The Economic Diversification Committee met again with the topic of "Home/Occupation Industry." Three guest speakers were in attendance to share information on their experiences with home based business. Sherry Rea from Anson, Hindon and Minden discussed policies that were developed regarding home occupation. AHM allows two employees, in addition to those living in the dwelling, to work out of a home business, in an effort to promote economic development and job creation.

Carey McMaster of the Peterborough Small Business Office gave an overview of the new consultation services as well as highlighting some programs that are available to assist with the funding to start up a home-based business. Grahame Wales from Earth and Fire Pottery in Carnarvon discussed his experience working from his home and how he made the transition from full time employment to working for himself.

Members of the Youth Development Committee have developed a Community Resource Survey directed to local youth. This is the first step in organizing for existing resources to be used optimally and to identify what more is needed for youth in Haliburton County to allow them to develop their maximum potential.

The Youth Development Committee will be submitting a proposal to Youth Service Canada through HDRC which would employ a group of approximately 12 youth (15 to 30 years old) who are out of school and unemployed, on a stipend salary basis. It is proposed that the youth would be dispersed throughout the County to address local needs that are specifically community service oriented. The aim is to have the youth finish the program with a career plan in place. To meet this criteria, the team will meet once per week at the Protocol

Children's Concert Series looking for some help and a new name

--submitted--

Imagination is one of the most important things in the healthy mental development of a child. A child who can play pretend has a better chance at doing well in school - and therefore in life. Television plays an important role in educating our children and showing them how to pretend. A "live" show makes it all the more touchable though, since most children's theatre productions are making interaction a big part of their show.

The Haliburton County Children's Concert Series has been offering live shows to our kids for twelve years now. In the last few years we have had to deal with very real financial concerns. We always managed to pull through with flying colours, thanks to the continued support of the people in this county.

Sometimes the grown-ups in the audience have walked out of our shows, shaking their heads at the silliness of it, but the children always love it. And most times parents and children walk out hand in hand, beebopping and whistling. There is no better way to get close to your child.

Marilou Mizzan, has been volunteering with this organization from its birth. She is now moving on to new ventures. If you are interested in keeping the shows rolling, join us with a helping hand. We need help with distributing posters, ticket sales and organizational tasks. Most of these jobs need to be done this fall, but we also need one person on the board. Let us know what you can do - everything is appreciated.

The Haliburton County Children's Concert Series is holding a contest right now. We are looking for a new name and we appreciate everyone's suggestions. You can win a family pass to our next season, if your entry is picked. Something fun and spunky would be nice.

Drop off your entries at the Haliburton Royal Lepage office. You can also mail entries to Julianne vanLieshout at R.R. 2 Haliburton, K0M 1S0. Remember to include your name and address with your entry.

Our first concert will take place in January of 1999. We have three shows lined up right now and we are working on a fourth one.

We are looking forward to seeing you all again next season. Have a fun filled summer.

Foreign policy initiatives

Increasing trust around the world

During his recent trip to Cuba, Prime Minister Jean Chrétien said Canada has "always chosen dialogue over confrontation, engagement over isolation, exchange over estrangement." This statement reflects the Federal government's position that effective foreign policy is based - whenever possible - on ongoing collaboration and discussion, rather than coercion.

Canada is recognized as a world leader in helping to build international institutions for the advancement of human rights, and the government is committed to enhancing that leadership. When dialogue or engagement are not viable, however, Canada is ready to mobilize and support international action.

Working directly with other countries, or through international organizations such as the United Nations, Canada supports the work of non-governmental organizations (NGOs) and encourages the development of civil society through a combination of targeted financial support, visits, and exchanges. These efforts help broaden legal frameworks and strengthen human rights institutions.

David Kilgour, Secretary of State for Latin America and Africa visited four Latin American countries from May 1 to 8. Judicial reform, human rights, and issues regarding indigenous peoples were on the agenda.

Canadian NGOs overseas play an important role as proponents of human rights. Through their work on the front line of international relief and development efforts, NGOs have helped to improve processes, such as elections and the rule of law, and institutions, like legislatures, independent media, and judicial systems.

Canada's leadership in international organizations, such as the UN Commission on Human Rights, helps put in place mechanisms for monitoring and preventing human rights violations around the world.

The federal government promotes open trade and investment around the world. This openness helps lay a foundation for prosperity that can foster democratic conditions and set the stage for a discussion of human rights. Countries that actively engage in foreign trade and investment may feel increasing pressure from abroad to respect the rule of law and see why it is in their best interest to do so. Responsible trade means looking at economic activities in terms of their social impacts. Canada's focus is on setting core labour standards, eliminating child labour and controlling military exports.

A commitment to human rights is an essential part of Canadian values and identity. Federal government efforts to promote human rights, at home and abroad, reflect those beliefs. Human rights are a consideration in all our international relations. We engage countries in a genuine, meaningful, and constructive dialogue and encourage positive change to ensure human rights remain an important part of our legacy to future generations.

Cadets will assist OPP

Our recent Ontario budget spelled out a clear commitment to safe communities and enhanced policing.

The budget committed $150 million over five years to community safety programs. That includes a $6 million investment over the next 18 months to hire about 115 police cadets under the Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) cadet program.

The Cadet Program will hire young cadets to work at OPP detachments across the province, performing non-operational duties.

Currently, front-line officers are doing much of the routine work, such as answering general-inquiry phone calls from the public. By hiring new cadets, there will be more front-line officers back on patrol duties on roads and highways. This will enhance the officers' abilities to fight crime.

"Enhancing police visibility in areas patrolled by the OPP is a key objective of the program," said Jim Flaherty, Ontario's Solicitor General and Minister of Correctional Services, at a recent news announcement.

It is expected the Cadet Program will appeal to young adults looking for a work opportunity in a police setting. This experience can help young people who are looking to become police officers.

In the program cadets may:

- receive non-emergency reports from the public;
- respond to basic public inquiries;
- assist in the return/

disposal of property;

• assist in processing reports at Collision Reporting Centres;

• assist community outreach programs by staffing displays, conducting community surveys, providing handouts on travel tips, seat belt safety etc.;

• patrol parks - teams of two cadets to observe and report incidents;

• assisting citizens in volunteer patrol programs.

We anticipate the Cadet Program will be implemented within the next six months. Details on applications to the program should be available soon.

"This is a wonderful opportunity for cadets to learn about policing first-hand," said Gwen Boniface, the Commissioner-designate of the OPP. "It will allow more of our members to get back to what they do best - protecting the people of Ontario."

each component of the overall project.

The Community Transportation Steering Committee is currently working on its incorporation. It has issued another press release to keep the public informed of the progress to date and two members have been working with the high school to develop logos and to work on web page design. Les Shepherd was invited to attend the Ontario Community Transportation Association Conference in May as a guest panelist. He has been asked to speak to "how the community has overcome the obstacles of distance to coordinate local transportation resources."

Each orientation group has been asked to prepare a summary of its progress to date to prepare for the Community Forum in July.

Residents gear up for Jamboree

That was one hot Victoria Day weekend wasn't it? Bet a lot of you were out enjoying the weather. We heard that both Minden and Haliburton were very busy with visitors to our Highlands. It seems that the summer season has definitely started.

We also celebrate the Victoria Day weekend.

On Friday, the Grandfathers were here providing entertainment and afterward we enjoyed our own private display of fireworks. Last year at this time, the weather was too cold for us to be outside and watch the fireworks. This year, although the weather was certainly warm enough, we were kept indoors thanks to the "Highlands Air Force". Hungry devils aren't they? Never mind, we still enjoyed ourselves. Our thanks to all involved.

On Saturday we were wonderfully entertained by Jock Mavor and his friend Bill. Bill's last name escapes us at this time. However we found out that Jock and Bill are wartime buddies and used to sing together years ago. As they announced each song they explained the history of it and also who wrote it. This made for a very interesting afternoon and we thoroughly enjoyed ourselves. We thank Jock and Bill for a great time and providing us with such a variety of music.

The following day some us watched a movie and afterwards John Burgess was here for his pastoral visit. And of course we finished us with our ice cream treats.

During the long weekend, Seven (the Sheltie) stayed with us and had a great time playing ball with some residents as well as following others around. However he did miss Gary and a bed had to be made up for him outside the office. Our canaries are still giving us great pleasure. We haven't named them yet. They are both males, (brothers in fact). One suggestion was "Peter, Paul, looking for Mary". We're not sure if that suggestion will be followed up, but we will let you know when the names are chosen. It sure makes for a good discussion.

On Monday, the Gospel Singers were here and we joined them in a great hymn sing. We thank them for coming, especially on a holiday weekend. Chapel this week was led by Reverend Wicks and in the afternoon the craft group got together and was busy making items for Father's Day.

Well, our Country Music Jamboree is sure getting close. Have you marked your calendar yet? May 30th, Minden Community Centre at 8:00 p.m. Lots and lots of talent. Much from our own community and also some special guest will be there. We promise some great music. Y'all come now! To be sure, the Roving Reporters will be there along with many residents. The door prizes and spot dance prizes have all been donated and at this time we wish to thank those who so kindly donated items to be won. You can't win if you don't come. A big thank you to Dottie and Bob for running around in this heat, to pick up the various donated prizes. What would we do without our volunteers.

We're closing the week's reporting a couple of days early this week. But we will catch up next week. Before we go, a Happy Birthday to Corinne Bonneville who celebrates on May 27.

Bye for now. See you next week.

P.S. Did you hear the latest? Another "pouter" has arrived!

Women's Institute May meeting

The president, Jean Cox, opened the May 20th meeting of Minden Women's Institute remarking on the pleasant setting. She welcomed Doris Grant of Belleville, a former member of this branch.

The Roll Call was answered by 14 members and our guests telling of their most memorable and unforgettable teacher. Jean then stated that our Volunteer Hours are most important and she passed around forms for each of us. This provincial total may help us apply for a government grant. It was decided that surplus items from our garage sale are to be passed on for Minden County Town Museum for their yard sale in June.

Some members are going on a Food Safari at Minden IGA on May 27. The Programme Planning meeting is June 4 at 9:30 a.m., at the home of Denzil &

Jean Cox, for executive members.

Irene Moore reported sending 8 cards since April and collections for Card Fund and Pennies for Friendship were taken.

Bea Berry, the Education Convenor, gave reports from some teachers in the '20s, '30s and modern times as well. It was most interesting and entertaining.

The next meeting will be held at "The Terrace" June 17 and take the form of a Pot Luck at noon. Please bring dishes, cutlery and food. All ladies are welcome to attend.

Following the adjournment of the meeting, snacks and tea or coffee were enjoyed. Irene was auctioneer for our plant sale. A most enjoyable afternoon and thanks to Bea Berry for having us at her home.

Trent-Severn Waterway report

The long weekend was generally quite dry and pleasant weather in the watersheds of the Trent and Severn Rivers. This however, is beginning to take a toll on the water supply. Over the weekend, the Haliburton area lakes of the Trent-Severn Waterway moved down from 95.2 per cent to 94.7 per cent which put their total usable volume slightly below the 23 year average for that date.

Through the spring, despite the high flows in some areas these lakes peaked at 98.6 per cent on April 20. This was slightly lower than the two years previous peaks which both exceeded 100 per cent.

The Kawartha Lakes have a small surplus of water, now holding at about 105 per cent. They have not required stored water yet, though prolonged dry conditions could soon change that. The surplus would be used first, but may not last long depending how hot the conditions are.

Lake Simcoe-Couchiching has a small surplus as well, but Severn flows coming from it are near summer minimum.

These early dry conditions could lead to quite low levels by late summer in many areas, if they continue.

(Prepared by the Trent-Severn Waterway staff, issued May 20.

Around the County Town

by Nora Snyder (call 286-4425)

Can you believe it?? The weather feels well into summer. Hot! Hot! Hot! The flowers are wilting on their stems but when watered they are so tall, so colourful, emitting wonderful smells. Late at night when I let in the cat, or let him out, whatever the case may be, the aromas are overwhelming.

I finally made my annual trip to Campbell's Florists to choose my bedding plants. I had made a list to help me contain myself and not buy everything in sight. I left the list at home by mistake!! I was pretty good but it was hard because of how attractively they have the plants set out this year at the back. A pool is in the process of being installed which will add a lot to the ambience!!

The busy, busy long weekend heralded the summer to come too. My gauge for how many people are around is right across the river at the Beer Store! Every day in the parking lot and all along the street were cars topped by kayaks, canoes, or with a boat in tow. People spilled out of the cars looking very happy to be here!!

The only problem over the weekend was the electrical storm. Three of my television sets were hit and are now out, hopefully to be repaired. I know others lost security systems, computers, etc.. There's always something happening to keep us on our toes!!

The Stanhope Bridge Club is now being played at the Stanhope Firehall on Tuesday afternoons at 1:00 p.m., so there is much more room for the expanding number of tables. There are many newcomers and they are showing themselves off well!! For example, Pat Hannah came second last week and Lita Perrol was third! First was Betty Roszell. Three small slams were also bid and made by Jack Croucher and Fred Heald, Betty Roszell and Betty Culley, Muriel McIntosh and Dorothy Strype.

The final Euchre night of the season was last week at the Lochlin Community Centre. Everyone is off doing their summer things and will get going again in the fall. High man was Don Curry and low man was Gerald Hicks. High woman was Mary Hicks and low woman was Isabel Saunders. Lone hands was won by Murray MacKinnon and the 50/50 draw by Lorna Hicks. Have a great summer!!

Indoor Lawn Bowling officially begins June 1 at the Minden Curling Club. Anyone who wants to try the game or members who would like to practice can do so from 2:00-4:00 p.m. and 7:00-9:00 p.m. from May 25 to May 28. Memberships can be obtained until May 29. Also on Friday, May 29, from 7:00-9:00 p.m. there will be a social open house at the Minden Curling Club. The bowlers are so pleased they are able to use the Club this year.

Club 35 had a good Euchre night last week. A special award, known only by the players that night, was given to Helen Henderson!! Helen also won low woman. The 50/50 draw was won by Harry Randell; lone hands, Peter Farr; high woman, Verna Sawyer; low man, Stan Dutka; baloney, Stan Cline.

Shirley Wallace, who is a loyal Euchre player at Club 35 sent in this reminder for, "Red Light Runners".

Slow has four letters
So has Life.
Haste has five letters
So has Death.

Don't even try it!

A reminder of the yard sale at the Ingoldsby United Church on May 30 at 9:00 a.m. The sale is sponsored by the Ingoldsby UCW. Let's hope the weather holds until the weekend.

St. Paul's Friendship Club is going strong. They have decided to keep playing together over the summer. All the hammering should be done soon! It looks like things are moving right along next door. Euchre winners are as follows: lone hands, Helen Lee; high man, Pearl Cowan; high woman, Katie Parker; 50/50 draw, Marie Dennie.

The Minden and District Horticultural Society Plant Sale will be held on Friday, June 5 at 2:00 p.m., in the Ga-zabo, next to the bridge, in Minden. I always look forward to this sale every year. I am slowly filling up my gardens with the perennials I buy there. The Horticultural Society generally is such a great group. They do so much work keeping Minden beautiful: planting and looking after the flower boxes on the bridge; along the river in front of Ron Gambell's Antiques; in front of the Hospital and other sites around town. There is a keen interest in gardening by the citizens of Minden. I wish I could participate more. My day will come!!

The Stanhope Bid Euchre had some high score winners last week! They included: Willie Cox, 296; Helen Henderson, 286; and Helen Lee, 263; for the women. Norm Lee at 280, Ken Wallace, 255, and Alf Whyman, 251 were top scorers for the men. Moon Shots were again plentiful, including: Jack Cox; Rob Evans; Bill Durkin; Alf Whyman; Jim Skinner with two (!); and his wife Betty with one.

At the Canadian Legion in Minden on May 14, these were the scores for the evening of Euchre. Most lone hands for the men and women were May Bradbury and Sherin Brown. High scores for men and women Jim Bradbury and Iris Taylor. Low man and woman were David Danilko and Helen Skelding. Other prizes were won by Helen Lee, Lila Mitchell, Murray MacKinnon and Iris Taylor.

Five Pin Bowling teams from this district, playing in the Seniors Games, bowled for the medals at the Carnarvon Lanes on Wednesday, May 20. The winner, the gold medalists, will travel to Windsor in August to play in the provincial championship games. A Muskoka team won the gold with a score of +330. The team members are Bud Herd, Howard Irwin, Ruth Rose, Ethel Clugston and Bill Flavell. Congratulations!! Good luck in Windsor!! Only the Gold team will travel to Windsor. A Minden team won the silver with +191. The members included Sylvia Newton, Jerry Newton, Eleanor Young, Ralph Young and Dorothy McElwain. The Bronze went to another Muskoka team made up of Edna Allen, Edith Herd, Donna Irwin, Ernie Taylor and Ruby Speisher with a score of + 106. Congratulations to you all. Great to hear about all these active seniors!!

The Third Annual Tim Heming Memorial Golf Tournament and Barbecue will be held on Thursday, May 28, starting at 1:00 p.m. at the Haliburton Highlands Golf Course. The barbecue will follow at Sunny Rock Lodge B&B, in the brand new Pine Studio. Please call 286-4922 for further information.

Fellow Columnist Ken Brown dropped off this little note of interest: "Phyllis Howarth, Chairperson of the Haliburton Chapter of the Leek Diggers Society hosted a 'Sortie in the Woods' on Wednesday, May 20, near Mountain Lake. The membership noted that this year's crop of leeks is plentiful and particularly strong in flavour. We acknowledged once again our affinity with farmers on Ile d'Orleans in the St. Lawrence River, who are renowned for their agricultural prowess with this pungent onion, and extend to them the Society's traditional greeting, 'Vivre le Leek Diggers du Canada!' Following our expedition, Ms Howarth, proprietor of the Stone House Bed and Breakfast, served lunch in the sunroom overlooking her lovely garden. Special guests for this year's dig included Colin Klages of Scotch Line Road and Ken Brown of South lake."

I started writing this column on a sweltering hot day and I am finishing up on a very breezy cool day!!
Have a good week!!!

CARDS OF THANKS

I would like to extend my heartfelt thanks and appreciation to all those who sent floral tributes, visitations, cards and donations in Ken's memory. To the members of his Colour Party, you did him proud. To Earl Cooper for playing his favourites, you made his last parade so special. I extend my heartfelt thanks and gratitude. To all of you who stood by me and gave me so much help, thank you with all my heart. I'll be forever grateful.

To Monk's Funeral Home and to Kirsten and Barry Cray, your guidance and caring was such a help to get me through. You're the best. Thank you.

Viola Walsh.

THANK YOU

We would like to express our heartfelt thanks and appreciation to all our friends, neighbours and family for the cards, phone calls and food. The donations made to the HHHS in memory of Gloria, wife and mother. The warmth and caring shown in the recent loss of Gloria warmed the heart. Thank you to all who attended the funeral and later stopped at the house for a luncheon and the saying of farewells.

Thank you to Pastor Brian Plouffe for his words of understanding, encouragement and down to earth service.

Thank you to Dwaine Lloyd of the Haliburton Community Funeral Home for his assistance and guidance during this difficult time.

To all our curling friends in Minden and Haliburton, to the Euchre players in the area.

To Curry Motors for the loan of a vehicle.

Thank you to the many ladies who supplied the food and served the luncheon.

An extra special thanks to the staff at Extendicare, Haliburton. You always had a pleasant smile, a loving hug, a friendly handshake and a cheerful word. You made Gloria's stay with you as comfortable as possible and we appreciate that. Remember her cheerful days, as her family remembers her. She was a great lady. A "DANCING" Lady.

Nick and the Nimigon Family.
